Spring

The open sky as blue as can be, white speckles swooping and gliding across the sky.
The bright green grass with flowers galore. Roses, daisies, pansies and more. The rain fell last night.
Making the grass soft and bright. See the birds fly, and you ask why it looks so beautiful and you start to cry.
Maybe spring is the answer why.

Spring

Time to jump and cheer
March, March is here Spring break is near

March, March is so fun
Come and play in the sun
March, March is so fun
It's fun for everyone

April, April time for rain
April showers bring May flowers

Aladdin, the Musical

We had to practice the songs and dances. I should say we almost always practiced over and over until they can hear us, or until we're good at that song. All we do is go through the play. Most of the time we do one song more than once to get it right. Our choreographer teaches us a dance, we learn it, and we dance and move on. That's pretty much it, except for the fact we worked really hard to get the play on track we all hope you liked it. We really do hope you liked it.

Me and the Wind

The feeling of the breeze running through my hair.
The smell of chlorine in the air. The summer sun shining on the water that's near. And I start to feel that summer feeling, the one that's close and very appealing. I sense the moment that summer will never end. But I think now and then we get a yearning for fun. I still feel the warm summer sun. The glimmer in my hair running, running, all over everywhere. And then it's gone like the whoosh in the wind. But I won't forget all that I did this summer, especially when it's me and the wind.

The Problem with Bullying

Many years ago discrimination was when you were outcast because of your skin tone or your gender, well that is like what is happening today except you are being outcast because people think you are different. Being different is not a bad thing, I mean I don't get why it is a big deal. When people don't hang out with you it makes you feel unwanted and that leads to very bad things. When people are labeled as different or other things, some people think they should pick on them. The reason bullies bully is because either they like to have power over others or they have problems of their own at home so they feel like they have to take it out on other people. When people bully it is very bad one person or many people can get hurt because of one person. So this is how you can deal with a bully. First, walk away if you can, but if you can't, tell a trusted adult about your problem. Don't try to deal with it yourself because more than one is better than being bullied.

STOP BULLYING NOW!

Spring Break

(fiction)

One afternoon little Quinndalinn was in Science when she noticed only two more hours till spring break. She was so excited to go to her friend's house Columbalinn that she danced right in front of her classmates, they all laughed at her but she didn't even care. Two hours passed and Quinndalinn was on the bus with Columbalinn. When they got home they rushed to the sand pit. They got two shovels, some cups, and 2 popsicles, and started building. They came across something strange as they were building there so called "princesstopia"; they saw a strange Barbie doll house. They opened it, on the left side it read "once you pick up these dolls strange things will happen. They didn't believe it but they still thought it was cool, plus the Barbies were super fancy, they started playing and both of them, minute by minute shrunk. They became Barbie size, then all the sudden the Barbies that they were playing with started talking. They couldn't believe it; they were scared but happy at the same time. The Barbies gave them a new look and fixed them some cool clothes. When they got their clothes and new makeover they asked the Barbies why they were doing all of this for them, they replied, "Once you've shrunk to Barbie form you become a Barbie forever." The two girls were shocked, they started crying. Quinndalinn and Columbalinn asked if there was anything to do to get back to human. The Barbies said, "Well, there's one thing you could do but it is super dangerous for us Barbies. Go to Ken." Little did the girls know that Ken was a mean king and the only way to get him to change them back was to make him the finest clothes in Barbie world! They said no problem, and headed to his castle. When they got there, they got to work when they came across Ken. He said, "You guys honestly think you two can make me the most..." and then stopped. The girls did it they actually made him a spectacular outfit! He asked if he could get them some Barbie clothes that would fit them when they got to be human again they replied, YES!!! Ken waived his magical wand and POOF they were human. Columbalinn's mom asked where they were they told her the whole story and how they got their new dresses but she didn't believe them. Then at once they both said "BEST SPRING BREAK EVER"! Days passed, breath was lost and new clothes were worn. They both went to school that next week telling everyone. Recess came and the school principal noticed a strange phone case with instructions on how to properly put it on, and soon after she... DISAPPEARED! THE END!

Camp Joy

Every year the 6th grade goes to Camp Joy at the beginning of May because we leave for 7th grade after summer break. We have to sell chocolate bars to help with the cost of Camp. The chocolate bars only cost a dollar and there are 50 candy bars in a whole case. I haven't been to Camp yet, but from 6th graders that rode my bus last year, I heard it was really fun! I heard that you go zip lining, swimming, and a lot of really fun stuff! I hope we have a lot of fun at Camp Joy!!

After this year all of us 6th graders are off to the middle school so this is our last year! Hope it's a great one!!

Camp Joy

The 6th Grade is going to Camp Joy in May. The 6th Grade can't wait until May 1st the day we leave. We also can't bring electronics to Camp Joy. We go zip lining and go on the Underground Railroad. Someone last year said it was very emotional. Still I want to go to Camp Joy. Next year I hope the 5th graders this have fun at Camp Joy.

Ice cream

Ice cream ice cream is so sweet, and it makes a wonderful treat.

Strawberry, vanilla, butterscotch too. I like chocolate! How about you?

Obby Yo Yo the Turkey!!!!

Once upon a time there was a turkey. His name was obby Yo Yo. He lived in an underwater cave. He lived all by himself and loved to eat fish. It was fall and the hunters were starting to hunt for underwater animals. One day they found Obby Yo Yo's cave. They captured him and killed him. But these types of underwater turkeys don't die easily. So when the hunter thought he was dead, he was only hurt! They pulled all his feathers off not knowing he was alive, and put him in the fridge. He was hungry, and stupid Obby Yo Yo decided to think all the food was for him... so he ate it all up. When the hunters opened their fridge for their dinner it was all eaten up. OH NO!! The hunters were so confused on what all happened that they slammed the door. When it was Thanksgiving, the hunters put him in the oven. But his turkey friends sniffed him down to the house. His family and friends opened the oven with their strength and wattle. They helped the turkey somehow get out. And fooled the hunters. And... they all ate happily ever after.

Leppy's Adventure

One day Leppy the Leprechaun was going for a walk over his rainbow. It was a beautiful spring day almost St. Patrick's day. He couldn't wait to go to the big feast for the Leprechauns that was held every year since Leppy could remember. There was even a prize for the Leprechaun with the most gold. Leppy won the contest every year. When he reached the rainbow's end, he decided to turn around because he had baked a pie and didn't want it to burn.

When he reached his house, Leppy smelled the air for the scent of pie but all he smelled was the rainbow. Rainbows smell like gummy bears, so he ran into his house to find it torn apart. His pie was gone, and oh no so was his gold! Who would have broken in and taken his gold? So he went and asked his neighbor, Mother Goose if she had seen anything suspicious. She told Leppy she hadn't seen anything, but she had smelled a burnt pie. His first clue no one in Fairytale Landia ate burnt pie. So he went the way the wind blew because that was the way the criminal must have gone for Mother Goose to smell the pie.

He traveled and traveled until he came to the bridge out of Fairytale Landia. You could only cross the bridge out if you rode upon the back of a unicorn. Leppy knew he was close he could smell the pie from here. Luckily his best friend was a unicorn named Uni. He called her on his phone and she came and flew him over the bridge. When he reached the other side, he smelled the pie and went to the door where he could smell it the most. It was his arch nemesis Dr. Chonk the evil fairy monkey. Leppy dashed in and got his gold back, he also smashed the pie in Dr. Chonk's face. He returned just in time for the feast and won the biggest pot of gold award. The only bad part was that he didn't bring his pie which everyone loved. But he promised to make a new holiday that unfortunately never caught on, Pie Day.
